Reflecting Gracious Summer

In the early promise of spring designers dream of midsummer and reflect it in hats that are ready when the time comes to welcome that gracious season. Now it is here at the gate and lovely women don new headwear in its honor. It is the season of the most flowerlike and exquisite clothes, with big, picturesque and airy hats, delightful colors and unending variety in millinery. When the number of hats that can be pictured is limited to three it is hard to make a choice for illustration, but those shown in the group above illustrate important types, each represented by many examples.

Hair braid, which looks fragile but is not, makes the wide-brimmed white hat with beige border, at the top of the group. In hats, as in all other summer apparel, all styles tend toward the lightest and airiest fabrics, so that hair braid shapes grow more and more popular. Two soft ostrich plumes of the same degree of fineness as the hat curl over the edge of its jaunty brim.

Just below, at the left, georgette crepe and braid make a hat that contrives to be almost as airy as hair braid. The brim is of moderate width and made of the crepe with a wide flange of narrow braid at the edge, put on in rows with spaces between them. There is a collar of chrysanthemum braid about the crown, and long, curling antennae that call to mind a huge black butterfly. These big, sheer black hats look cool as the night.

At the right of the group a mist of malles appears to be caught about the head of a frame having its wires covered with satin. The crown is soft, but pipings of satin support it. Pansies, as natural as life, lie about the crown in their own adorable colorings. They cannot help inspiring "tender and pleasant thoughts."

Outfits That Intrigue the Motorist.

If you have forewarned a motor tour for good reasons, do not allow yourself to stroll into shops or through the departments in big stores where motor togs are on display. Temptation lies there, along with the proper outfit for any sort of motoring. Yes, these motor clothes suggest all sorts of alluring outings, from a tour across the continent to that of a few hours along perfect roads and through smart towns, and each has its own charm. The coats, capes, sweaters and hats show that motor and other sport clothes have become more specialized than ever before.

Leading off with coats there are leather coats like that shown in the picture that allow one to defy the hardest wear on the longest trip. It has a belt that slips through slides, very large patchpockets that hold everything, with a flap that closes them at the top. A strap at the cuff makes a logical finish for the sleeve and a short shawl collar disposes of protection for the neck in a businesslike way. Coats of this kind are usually three-quarters length or a little shorter and are made in brown or black. Longer coats that cover the dress are shown having the upper portion of leather and the skirt portion of tweed or other heavy wool goods.

Leaving leather out of the reckoning there are comfortable coats of tweed, covert cloth and heavy Jersey, and these, like the leather and part leather coats, have certain fine quality of style that comes in garments that insure adaptability to the sort of demands made upon them. Among the Jersey coats are more unusual mixtures in which two colors are woven together in the fabric with something of a changeable effect. For all ordinary motoring these cloth coats are most dependable. Besides there are the new camel's hair coats, beautifully soft, shown in fascinating tan shades, and especially stylish. And last comes the coat of pongee, which has a vitality that insures it a long future and a history that proves it always elegant.

To wear with these there are fetching motor hats of millinery patent leather and silk or of other millinery leather and of rubberized cloth that looks like a heavy crepe georgette. Nearly all these hats are short in the back and have visors in the front. They are shown in tan and brown, dark blue, black and green and in all black. Vells appear to be conspicuous by their absence.
